Build a House Campaign Update

The theme on the Chi Omega website is entitled “Chi Omegas flourish...,” meaning to thrive, prosper or succeed in all that we strive to accomplish. Pi chapter has a unique opportunity to flourish and to complete this capital campaign successfully.

We are challenged by our active chapter who cannot wait to live together with sisters, dine together with family and friends, and live side by side with other Greek groups on Morgan Hill. We are challenged by our chair, Madge Clark, to complete this campaign by June, 2011. We are challenged by Sis Mitchell & Anne Maynard, campaign co-chairs, who accepted their responsibilities like cheerleaders, saying “Yes, we can!” We are so blessed to have such a talented group of alumnae working tirelessly on this house design and campaign. Thank you!

Take a moment and think about why you chose Chi Omega fraternity on your bid day card. Remember your pledge class, your initiation, your lifelong friends, your cardinal and straw wardrobe, and the songs which reflected your love for the fraternity. My favorite — “Chi Omega Yours Forever.”

We need your gifts & pledges now! If you have pledged, join others by making another gift. We also need your time by volunteering to help in one of our events.

You have the opportunity to participate in the following fundraising events:

Class Challenge
- Marty Troutman & Jabette Carlson
- Name all 22 bedrooms in the house
- Each class member donates $500
- Complete by May 1, 2011

“Rise to the Summitt” Challenge
- Anne Maynard & Sis Mitchell
- Name the staircase in honor of Pat Summitt!
- Purchase a step for $5,000
- A landing for $10,000
- A championship step or railing for $25,000
- Complete by August 1, 2011

“Rise to the Summitt” Event
- Candy Brownlow & Mary Hugh Bedinger
- September 24, 2011
- Cherokee Country Club

Mothers Club Challenge
- Kelly Carillon & Mother’s Club Officers
- Name the House Mother’s Suite $30,000
- We have a challenge gift in place!
- Complete by June 1, 2011

Remember, your gift may be a cash gift or a 3 to 5 year pledge. We accept credit cards, appreciated stocks, life insurance policies, memorials, and honorariums.

Chi Omega has a rich history on the UT campus. Just as the chimes ring out from Ayres Hall, our Chi Omega house will be like a beacon on Morgan Hill enlightening the lives of women for generations to come. Please join us and give us your renewed commitment today! I am confident we will SUCCEED!

Sela Ward, Actress, Nu Beta’75, summarizes my thoughts: “In my own life, I have come to truly appreciate the lessons Chi Omega teaches. It gives us the confidence to succeed—as mothers, professionals, as citizens of the world. No matter the path we choose, Chi Omega makes a difference!”

Loyally yours,

$1,700,000  Total required by UT before house construction can begin
$1,060,000  Total value of cash and pledges as of March 7, 2011
$640,000  Total needed by June 1, 2011

Your gift is IMPORTANT! Consider sending a gift now and pledging the same amount for two more years. Join your sisters in making our beautiful new home a reality. You will be glad you did.
Editor's Note

As you can see from Jeff Maples’ letter, “Chi Omega has not met their financial obligation at this time. Therefore in order to receive approval to seek construction bids... the chapter must secure the additional funds to illustrate their financial viability.”

As of March 7, 2011, two sororities have begun bid solicitation and four other groups have been notified that they can begin the bidding process. It is essential that we raise $640,000 by June 1, 2011 so that our house will also be ready for Fall 2012 Recruitment.

November 18, 2010

Ms. Madge Clark
2266 Washington Avenue
Memphis, TN 38104

Dear Madge:

Recently, you contacted me regarding an update on the campus sorority village project. More specifically, your concerns were over the financial position of Chi Omega to commence house construction. As you are aware, the campus continues to experience numerous challenges with the site development. Unforeseen delays related to location of various utility lines throughout the site, along with weather issues, have combined to play havoc with the completion date. The University, architect, and contractor all regret the fact these delays have occurred. However, we firmly believe the finished product will be an attractive and functional development for each of the chapters.

In the past few weeks, the major obstacles hindering site completion have been resolved. Therefore, I believe all interested parties will witness major progress on site in the coming weeks. At this point, the projected completion date of March 2011 is, indeed, realistic.

Based on this timeline, I anticipate the chapters that are ready may be able to solicit construction bids during a February to March 2011 timeframe. This timeline may permit actual construction to commence during April or May. I realize the goal for the majority of the chapters is for the house to be operational by summer 2012, which allows for the sororities to move in and prepare procedures for the purpose of opening fall 2012.

According to the architects, the construction period for the houses range from nine to twelve months. Therefore, for planning purposes, I would set a target date to break ground by June 1, 2011. As you are fully aware, Chi Omega has not met their financial obligation at this time. Therefore, in order to receive approval to seek construction bids next spring, the chapter must secure the additional funds to illustrate their financial viability. This just leaves slightly more than six months to raise the additional dollars.

The University is giving the project priority and is committed to the overall success of the sorority project. It is our desire that as many chapters as possible break ground next spring or summer. Hopefully, Chi Omega will be one of those chapters. Please inform me if you require additional information to ensure your building becomes a reality.

Sincerely,

Mother’s Club Accepts Challenge

The Chi Omega Mother’s Club, under the leadership of President Kelly Carillon, has enthusiastically accepted a challenge from a generous Pi alum. Ellen “Sis” Mitchell will make an additional gift of $15,000 to the capital campaign if the Mother’s Club can match that amount. The $30,000 would then be used for the House Director’s Suite, also known as the “house mother’s room.”

According to Kelly, “It occurred to us that helping finance the House Director’s Suite was a fitting opportunity for the Mother’s Club to support the building of our Chi Omega house. This home away from home will be used by our girls and future Chi Omega women for generations to come.”

“We are thankful to have such a generous alumna and the families of the active Chi Omegas look forward to meeting her challenge.”

The fundraising will begin following the Mother-Daughter Luncheon to be held April 9 at the Cherokee Country Club. “Sis” Mitchell will be the featured speaker and will share her love for Chi Omega and her excitement regarding our new house with the group that day.

Luncheon invitations will be mailed, but for additional information, contact Kelly Carillon at 865-607-6556 or kcarillon@comcast.net.

The sisters of Pi chapter at the University of Tennessee have had a whirlwind year so far! They kicked off the school year with arguably the best pledge class in Panhellenic, with their Hooties coming from all across the country (as far as California!). This past month they officially initiated the 42 new members and couldn’t be more proud of these sisters. This ambitious, fun loving, driven group will be sure to uphold the Chi Omega legacy throughout the rest of their years at UT.

The Pi chapter women are involved in activities all over campus. With that being said, they also achieved the highest GPA in Panhellenic for Fall of 2010. These sisters sure know how to balance out school work and their social lives!

Along with hitting the books this past Fall, they also teamed up with the gentlemen of Sigma Chi, working day and night on homecoming festivities. This included building a creative float from the ground up, decorating a banner, and competing in other various activities against fellow sororities and fraternities. All of their hard work paid off in the end when the Sigma Chi Omega duo ended up winning Homecoming 2010 overall, and to say the sisters were elated would be an understatement.

While Chi Omegas love to be social, they also take their philanthropy work very seriously. They placed 4th in the Vol Challenge out of all the organizations on campus. Alongside the sisters of Kappa Kappa Gamma, they worked throughout the week organizing and helping plan a fashion show to help benefit the local Goodwills around Knoxville. Dance Marathon is another philanthropic event that is very close to the heart of Pi chapter, and for the 11th year in a row, they brought home the Dance Marathon Miracle Cup. Dance Marathon benefits the Children’s Miracle Network hospital in the area, which for Pi chapter would be East Tennessee Children’s Hospital.

Talent is another thing that Pi chapter is definitely not lacking. This year, they won 1st place in the All-Sing Large Singles Division and placed 2nd overall. One particular singer stood out above the rest, Ashley Sizemore, who won Best Female Soloist.

As busy as this year has been for these sisters, they wouldn’t trade it for the world, and they’re looking forward to their Annual Flag Football tournament coming up on April 30th, benefiting Dream Connection. Each year they raise money to send one child from East Tennessee Children’s Hospital on his or her dream vacation. Last year they sent a sweet little girl named Jalen and her family on a trip to Disney World, which wouldn’t have happened without the women of Pi chapter. With other philanthropies and activities around campus to participate in, they’re looking forward to finishing out the school year on a strong note and can’t wait to see what the rest of the future holds!

Pi Earns Highest GPA, Wins Homecoming, All-Sing

What do Pi chapter officers look like when they have been up all night? These old and new officers worked diligently around the clock at the home of Beth Dance, planning for the new year.

“Crockett Rocks” is heard a lot at Pi chapter meetings. Graduates of Crockett County High School in Alamo, TN, include the following: Megan Pulliam, Abby Sellers, Emily Richards, and Amy Rowe, along with alums, Anna Sellers and Meredith Pulliam Marbury.
Meet our House Corporation President...Joyce Zirkle Tapscott

Joyce Tapscott lives a life centered on faith, family and friends. Born in Chattanooga, TN, she and her family moved to Knoxville in 1950, where her father began a practice in pediatric medicine. She has an older brother, Andy, and a Chi Omega sister, Marilyn (deceased).

Joyce is married to Jack, a medical equipment sales representative with Baxter Healthcare. Her daughter, Ashley (Pi), is a fourth year urology resident in Philadelphia, PA, and currently serves as Alumnae Membership Chair in Philadelphia. Her son, Cary, is in pharmacy sales in Columbia, SC and was a Sigma Phi Epsilon at UT. Central to family activities is Gus, an Italian Spinone.

Pledging at Queens College, Charlotte, NC (Theta Gamma) where she was elected Pledge Class President, Joyce transferred to UT and served as GNV. She has served as Pi Chapter Advisor, Mother’s Club President, House Corporation Board, and House Corporation President since 2005.

“I have always valued and cherished my Chi Omega friendships,” says Joyce.

Joyce spent 10 years in retail management and merchandising with Rich’s in Atlanta, and Watson’s in Knoxville. As president and owner of Commercial Interiors, a “top 100 design firm,” she designed and furnished corporate headquarters for many local businesses. For the past 11 years she has worked as a Broker Affiliate for Coldwell Banker Wallace & Wallace Realtors as a Previews Luxury Property Specialist.

Her community involvement has included working with Church Street United Methodist Church, Leadership Knoxville Class of 1995, Knoxville Chamber of Commerce, Baptist Health System Board, Knoxville Junior League, Blount Mansion, Health Education & Human Sciences Board of Visitors, and Westmoreland Home Owners Association.

Known for her people skills, high level of energy and strategic planning skills, Joyce finds it especially exciting to work with talented groups of men and women.

Accepting the challenge of leading the team to build a house for Chi Omega Fraternity was an easy decision. “The challenge matches my skills, allows me to connect with talented Chi Omega actives and alumnae, and will be a lasting gift to our fraternity.”
